

Idea Sources!

Here are some places where you can find ideas and inspirations (Some of these are repeated from Chapter 4).

Some of these require paid subscription/membership, especially the academic research. For News and Academic research, most university offers their students free access. You may want to check your local library for free access.

Tools

FX Correlation Analysis: <https://www.mataf.net/en/tools/01-01-correlation>

Forums

<http://www.forexfactory.com/>

<http://www.stevhopwoodforex.com/phpBB3/index.php>

<http://forums.babypips.com/>

<http://forum.mql4.com/>

<https://www.quantopian.com/posts/trading-strategy-ideas-thread>

Rumor Mill/Blogs

<http://seekingalpha.com/>

<http://dealbreaker.com/>

<http://www.dailyspeculations.com/wordpress/>

<http://www.tradingmarkets.com/>

<http://www.thestreet.com/>

<http://www.kirkreport.com/>

<http://abnormalreturns.com/>

<http://www.currencytradermag.com/>

<http://www.automatedtrader.net/home.xhtm>

http://www.fxtradermagazine.com/Index_en.php

News/Research

<https://www.google.com/finance>

<https://finance.yahoo.com/>

<http://www.bloomberg.com/>

<http://thomsonreuters.com/>

<http://www.morningstar.com/>

<http://www.economist.com/>

Academic Research

Business schools' finance professors' websites - www.hbs.edu/research/research.html

Social Science Research Network - www.ssrn.com

National Bureau of Economic Research - www.nber.org

Business schools' quantitative finance seminars - www.ieor.columbia.edu/seminars/